3. Alec Soth's A Pound of Pictures Exhibition at Sean Kelly Gallery

Known for his intimate depiction of the American Midwest through incredibly detailed large-format images, documentary photographer Alec Soth's latest series A Pound of Pictures will be exhibited at Sean Kelly Gallery from January 14–February 26. His fourth solo exhibition at the gallery follows the Minnesota-based photographer's image-making process between 2018 and '21, celebrating both the ephemeral and physical qualities of the medium. A new monograph coinciding with the exhibition will soon be released with MACK Books—each copy including five randomized photographs buried within the pages. —Stefanie Li
