Critics' picks

"ILEANA SONNABEND: AMBASSADOR FOR THE NEW"

MoMA celebrates the famed dealer who promoted the biggest names in postwar art. ▶ Museum of Modern Art; through Apr 21 (see Museums)

MARTIN THOMPSON FREE

The self-taught artist's felt-tip-pen drawings on graph paper may be the offspring of Amish quilts mated with old video games like Pac-Man. ▶ Ricco/Maresca Gallery; through Jan 18 (see Chelsea)

ROBERT MAPPLETHORPE FREE

On view are 54 photos, some rarely exhibited, hung in pairs to illustrate the theme "Saints and Sinners." ▶ Sean Kelly Gallery; through Jan 25 (see Chelsea)

SEAN SCULLY FREE

The colors in Scully's latest abstractions take their inspiration from the landscape near the places where they were made. ▶ Cheim & Read; through Jan 11 (see Chelsea)

"THE AMERICAN WEST IN BRONZE"

Sculptures of cowboys and Native Americans recall the Old West. ▶ The Metropolitan Museum of Art; through Apr 13 (see Museums)
