"Abstract by Nature" brings together major works by international artists and antique artifacts to visualize how artistic practices have changed over the centuries. Juxtaposing video, ceramic, and sculpture artworks to antiquities from the Heian Period, Tang Dynasty, Song Dynasties, and Muromachi periods, the show forms a dialogue between modern artistic practices and traditional aesthetics with works by Callum Innes, Markus Karstieß, Hyun-Sook Song, Su Xiaobai, and Wu Chi-Tsung, all of whom work with a range of modern and traditional mediums.

When: Through August 2

Where: 475 10th Ave
